These settings and tunes are basic guidelines. Pipers may have various settings and or tunes for specific dances. These are typical tunes played in the past for the Rocky Mountain Highland Dancers. Also remember to work with the dancers to insure your selction will work for them prior to performances.

For the Strathspey and Highland Reel you may select from the tune list or play ones you know. Typically this is a 4 parted or 2 two parted Strathspey (64 bars) with a 4 parted or 2 two parted reels (32 bars). If they do a Strathspey and Half Tulloch you will add 2 more two parted reels (64 bars). If they do a Strathspey, Reel and Half Tulloch you would add yet another 2 more two parted reels (96 bars). The Reel of Tulloch would be 128 bars of reels or 8 two parted reels.

Most of the tunes will show the tempo, how many bars played for the intro and length of tune. Generally these are written for 4 steps unless specified. Example: Highland Fling playing a 4 parted tune will be for a 4 step. If a 6 step is needed then an additional 32 bars would be added. Exsample: Marquis of Huntly (4 parted) and Captain Horn (2 parted).

The Sword Dance and Seann Triubhas may be played in different variations. Such as 2 slow and 1 quick or 3 slow and 1 quick. The Sword Dance is 16 bars per step and The Sean Triubhas is 8 bars per step. So what does that mean for the piper?

Example; Sword Dance - Tune Ghillie Callum - 2 slow and 1 quick would be played with a 4 bar intro then the slow played twice though (32 bars) then the quick once (16 bars).

Example: Sword Dance - Tune Ghillie Callum – 3 slow and 1 quick would be played with a 4 bar intro then the slow played 3 times (48 bars) then the quick once (16 bars).

Example: Sean Truibhas – Tune Whistle o'er the lave o' it – 4 slow and 2 quick would be played with a 4 bar intro then the slow played with 32 bars or 4 parts, then the quick played with 16 bars or two parts.

Example: Sean Truibhas – Tune Whistle o'er the lave o' it – 3 slow and 1 quick would be played with a 4 bar intro then the slow played with 24 bars or 3 parts, then the quick played with 8 bars or 1 part.

Confused? The best way to learn to play with Highland Dancers is to work with them. Listen to recordings and/or watch videos of other pipers playing for dancers.

Remember not to play for dancers if you have not mastered the tunes and play them perfectly without thinking.
